2018 City of Columbia DirectionFinder® Survey

Executive Summary

Overview and Methodology

The City of Columbia conducted its tenth DirectionFinder® survey during the fall of 2018. The City's first DirectionFinder® survey was conducted in the spring of 2003. The purpose of this survey was to assist the City in its on-going effort to identify and respond to resident concerns while also assessing citizen satisfaction with the delivery of major city services, helping determine priorities for the community and measuring strategic performance.

The survey packet, which included a cover letter, the seven-page survey and a postage-paid return envelope, was mailed to a random sample of households in the City of Columbia. The cover letter explained the purpose of the survey and encouraged residents to return their surveys via mail or online. Approximately 10 days after the surveys were mailed, residents who received the survey were contacted by e-mail or phone to encourage participation. Of the households that received a survey, a total of 941 completed the survey. This includes responses in strategic neighborhoods in Columbia.

The results for the random sample of 941 households have a 95% level of confidence with a precision of at least $\pm 3.2\%$. There were no statistically significant differences in the results of the survey based on the method of administration to the random sample households (mail vs. online). In order to better understand how well services are being delivered by the city, ETC Institute geocoded the home address of respondents to the survey. The map above shows the physical distribution of survey respondents based on the locations of their homes.

In addition to the Executive Summary, this report contains:

- charts depicting the overall results of the survey, as well as comparisons to results from previous surveys where applicable (Section 1)
- benchmarking data that shows how the survey results for Columbia compared to other communities (Section 2)
- importance satisfaction analysis (Section 3)
- tabular data for all questions on the survey (Section 4)
- a copy of the survey instrument (Section 5)

Interpretation of “Don’t Know” Responses. The percentage of persons who provide “don’t know” responses is important because it often reflects the level of utilization of city services. For graphical purposes, the percentage of “don’t know” responses has been excluded to facilitate valid comparisons with data from previous years. The percentage of “don’t know” responses for each question is provided in the Tabular Data Section of this report. When the “don’t know” responses have been excluded, the text of this report will indicate that the responses have been excluded with the phrase “who had an opinion.”

Investment Priorities

Recommended Priorities for the Next Two Years. In order to help the City identify investment priorities for the next two years, ETC Institute conducted an Importance-Satisfaction (I-S) analysis. This analysis examined the importance that residents placed on each City service and the level of satisfaction with each service.

By identifying services of high importance and low satisfaction, the analysis identified which services will have the most impact on overall satisfaction with City services over the next two years. If the City wants to improve its overall satisfaction rating, the City should prioritize investments in services with the highest Importance-Satisfaction (I-S) ratings. Details regarding the methodology for the analysis are provided in this report.

Based on the results of the Importance-Satisfaction (I-S) Analysis, ETC Institute recommends the following:

- Overall Priorities for the City by Major Category. The first level of analysis reviewed the importance of and satisfaction with major categories of City services. This analysis was conducted to help set the overall priorities for the City. Based on the results of this analysis, the major services that are recommended as the top three priorities for investment over the next two years in order to raise the City's overall satisfaction rating are listed below in descending order of the Importance-Satisfaction rating:
 - Condition of City streets (IS Rating= 0.4625)
 - Public safety services (IS Rating=0.2822)
 - City water, electric, and sewer services (IS Rating=0.1350)
- Priorities within Departments/Specific Areas: The second level of analysis reviewed the importance of and satisfaction of services within departments and specific service areas. This analysis was conducted to help departmental managers set priorities for their department. Based on the results of this analysis, the services that are recommended as the top priorities within each area over the next two years are listed on the following page:

- Public Safety: how quickly police respond to emergencies, police efforts to prevent crime, and overall quality of local police services
- Parks and Recreation: none of the parks and recreation services were selected as a “high priority” for improvement
- Streets and Sidewalks: City maintenance/repair services for major City streets and City maintenance/repair services for neighborhood streets
- Code Enforcement and Neighborhood Services: clean-up of trash and litter and maintenance of residential property.

Kansas and Missouri Benchmarks. The second set of charts show the highest, lowest, and average (mean) levels of satisfaction in the 33 communities listed above. The mean rating is shown as a vertical line, which indicates the average level of satisfaction for Kansas and Missouri communities. The actual ratings for Columbia are listed to the right of each chart. Section 3:

Importance-Satisfaction Analysis

Importance-Satisfaction Analysis

Columbia, Missouri

Overview

Today, city officials have limited resources which need to be targeted to activities that are of the most benefit to their citizens. Two of the most important criteria for decision making are (1) to target resources toward services of the highest importance to citizens; and (2) to target resources toward those services where citizens are the least satisfied.

The Importance-Satisfaction (IS) rating is a unique tool that allows public officials to better understand both of these highly important decision making criteria for each of the services they are providing. The Importance-Satisfaction rating is based on the concept that cities will maximize overall citizen satisfaction by emphasizing improvements in those service categories where the level of satisfaction is relatively low and the perceived importance of the service is relatively high.

Methodology

The rating is calculated by summing the percentage of responses for items selected as the first, second, third and fourth most important services for the City to provide. This sum is then multiplied by 1 minus the percentage of respondents that indicated they were positively satisfied with the City's performance in the related area (the sum of the ratings of 4 and 5 on a 5-point scale excluding "don't knows"). "Don't know" responses are excluded from the calculation to ensure that the satisfaction ratings among service categories are comparable. $[IS = \text{Importance} \times (1 - \text{Satisfaction})]$.

Example of the Calculation. Respondents were asked to identify the major categories of city services they thought should receive the most emphasis over the next two years. Approximately sixty-three percent (62.5%) selected the condition of City streets as the most important service for the City to provide.

With regard to satisfaction, 26% of the residents surveyed rated the city's overall performance in the condition of City streets as a "4" or a "5" on a 5-point scale (where "5" means "very satisfied") excluding "don't know" responses. The I-S rating for the condition of City streets was calculated by multiplying the sum of the most important percentages by 1 minus the sum of the satisfaction percentages. In this example, 62.5% was multiplied by 74% (1-0.26). This calculation yielded an I-S rating of 0.4625, which was ranked first out of eleven major service categories.

The maximum rating is 1.00 and would be achieved when 100% of the respondents select an item as one of their top three choices to emphasize over the next two years and 0% indicate that they are positively satisfied with the delivery of the service.

The lowest rating is 0.00 and could be achieved under either one of the following two situations:

- if 100% of the respondents were positively satisfied with the delivery of the service
- if none (0%) of the respondents selected the service as one of the three most important areas for the City to emphasize over the next two years.

Interpreting the Ratings

Ratings that are greater than or equal to 0.20 identify areas that should receive significantly more emphasis over the next two years. Ratings from .10 to .20 identify service areas that should receive increased emphasis. Ratings less than .10 should continue to receive the current level of emphasis.

- Definitely Increase Emphasis ($IS \geq 0.20$)
- Increase Current Emphasis ($0.10 \leq IS < 0.20$)
- Maintain Current Emphasis ($IS < 0.10$)

Importance-Satisfaction Matrix Analysis

The Importance-Satisfaction rating is based on the concept that public agencies will maximize overall customer satisfaction by emphasizing improvements in those areas where the level of satisfaction is relatively low and the perceived importance of the service is relatively high. ETC Institute developed an Importance-Satisfaction Matrix to display the perceived importance of major services that were assessed on the survey against the perceived quality of service delivery. The two axes on the matrix represent Satisfaction (vertical) and relative Importance (horizontal).

The I-S (Importance-Satisfaction) matrix should be interpreted as follows.

- Continued Emphasis (above average importance and above average satisfaction). This area shows where the City is meeting customer expectations. Items in this area have a significant impact on the customer's overall level of satisfaction. The City should maintain (or slightly increase) emphasis on items in this area.
- Exceeding Expectations (below average importance and above average satisfaction). This area shows where the City is performing significantly better than customers expect the City to perform. Items in this area do not significantly affect the overall level of satisfaction that residents have with City services. The City should maintain (or slightly decrease) emphasis on items in this area.
- Opportunities for Improvement (above average importance and below average satisfaction). This area shows where the City is not performing as well as residents expect the City to perform. This area has a significant impact on customer satisfaction, and the City should DEFINITELY increase emphasis on items in this area.
- Less Important (below average importance and below average satisfaction). This area shows where the City is not performing well relative to the City's performance in other areas; however, this area is generally considered to be less important to residents. This area does not significantly affect overall satisfaction with City services because the items are less important to residents. The agency should maintain current levels of emphasis on items in this area.
